Content

We work with all major Hollywood Studios and 500+ media distributors worldwide, enabling us to provide bespoke content solutions that meet all your IFE needs.

To support our vast content catalogue, we provide editing, encoding, and multilingual subtitling, which is configured to meet the requirements of all major hardware integrators. Our innovative online Content Selection Tool and content processing platform, with automated metadata and encoding tools, results in the most reliable and quickest delivery of content in the market.

Panasonic THALES SAFRAN BURRANA

Alongside traditional IFE content, we are experts in sourcing exclusive online video content.

Inflight Dublin has the exclusive distribution rights for Dude Perfect content for the inflight entertainment market. The YouTube sensation boasts an impressive 54 million followers and over 10 billion views with their unique and exciting content that will make an IFE offering stand out from the crowd. If you have a YouTube channel you want to exclusively showcase on your airline, we can make it happen.

Wellness Breathing Exercise

We pride ourselves on delivering creative and tailored wellness and educational content.

Inflight Dublin's brand-aligned EASE Wellness Breathing Exercise helps anxious travellers feel more relaxed during their flight. Compatible with all inflight entertainment systems, the exercise can be loaded onto any Wireless or Seatback IFE system. Inflight Dublin can produce and source the best wellness, educational and ASMR content to create a relaxing experience for your passengers on board.

"...All the latest content"

"All the latest content being made available to our passengers supports our goal of providing our customers with truly a unique travel experience."

Everhub™ Wireless

The next-generation Everhub™ wireless server is the safest and most reliable on the market. The server is DO-160G certified and has enough power to stream HD content and digital services to an entire single-aisle aircraft.

The Everhub™ wireless server has a range of features including a 4G modem for remote syncing of data and content, a removable Solid State Drive (SSD) for fast content updates, and an intuitive touchscreen for easy crew operation. Power options include a hot-swappable battery configuration or an EASA/FAA approved aircraft-powered option.

Our Hollywood approved Everhub™ software platform is fully customisable and can be tailored to your brand and service requirements.

Our browser-based Everhub™ software platform also includes key services such as a moving map, passenger survey, integrated advertising service, E-commerce platform, as well as a crew application and digitized publications, which all aim to reduce physical touchpoints on board. Our cloud-hosted Control Centre allows for quick and easy remote set-up and calibration of services, removing unforeseen operational costs that are associated with legacy IFE systems.

"...The system enhances the passenger experience!"

Everhub is the perfect solution for times like these where flexibility and fast changes are required more than ever. The system enhances the passenger experience on board and is a great valued addition to our inflight entertainment offering. IFD is making innovations on board possible with ease.

— Janina Kratz, Product Manager Inflight Entertainment

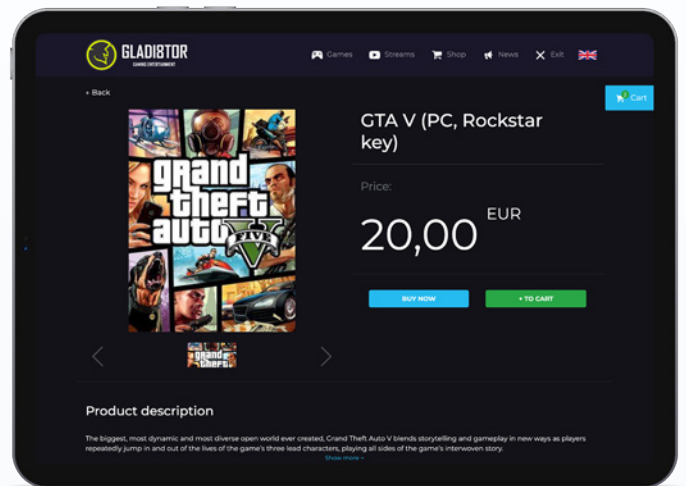

Ancillary Services

Generate revenue through strategic advertising and destination services that target your specific passenger audience.

Our partnerships with revenue-generating specialists allow us to provide a diverse range of advertising and digital sales opportunities to our clients. Promotion of destination services and excursions combined with onboard sales also has the potential to increase your inflight revenue tenfold. The Everhub™ Crew Application enables crew members to manage the sale of goods on board such as duty-free shopping and food and beverage purchases, all while minimizing crew-to-passenger contact.

Our Data Analytics platform, IFD Insights™, provides airlines with quantitative data reports on content usage trends and advertising for wireless and seatback IFE systems.

IFD Insights™ also provides informative data in the areas of passenger demographics and in-flight sales. In parallel to the rich quantitative data, IFD Insights™ delivers qualitative reports from passenger survey data and social media analysis. The curated data is then utilised to develop route-specific advertising and tailored destination services to deliver new revenue streams.

“We are delighted with the quick turn-around of the solution...”

Our partnership with Inflight Dublin will enable us to expand our offerings and provide our passengers a wider array of inflight entertainment options as they fly with Philippine Airlines. We are delighted with the quick turn-around of the solution, particularly with the seamless integration of the local language and PAL's own content within the platform. Inflight Dublin has been effectively meeting our needs to ensure the synergy of our Inflight Entertainment (IFE) system and their everhub solutions.

— Ma. Sylvia Elvira C. Domingo, Vice President for Marketing

In addition to our core services, Inflight Dublin specializes in bespoke digital solutions for clients with additional needs such as our Everhub™ Pre-loaded solution.

Combining the versatile Everhub™ software with the latest generation of Apple iPads provides an additional high-end entertainment option for airlines. With early-window studio approvals, Inflight Dublin's full catalogue of content is available through an airline branded native app. Remote loading and syncing of content allows Inflight Dublin to rapidly update large content packages with ease from anywhere in the world.
